

Sunday Telegraph
02.08

EAT WRITING ON ARTS, BOOKS,
ENTERTAINMENT AND BEYOND

Save

100

An extraordinary proposition: surf the net and send emails, wirelessly via GPRS, for free, with no contracts. The PocketSurfer2 has a full qwerty keyboard and a 12.5cm by 5cm colour screen. There's no video, audio or storage. Entering text is a fiddle and navigation likewise. Battery life is a slim four hours but access speeds are reasonable. All in all, it needs to improve, even if that means raising the price.
£169.99; www.amazon.co.uk, www.pocketsurfer.co.uk

For your consideration: the movies we love the most

LARS VON TRIER: THE GRATING DANE'S COMEDY COMEBACK
THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT SCIENTOLOGY: HOW L. RON HUBBARD'S RELIGION WOOS THE STARS
TSAR PHOTOGRAPHER: ANDREW GRAHAM-DIXON ON RODCHENKO

CLASSICAL CONCERTS, MOTORING, GADGETS, PUZZLES PLUS YOUR SEVEN-DAY TELEVISION